

FIFTY-FIFTH
CONVOCATION

NOVEMBER 14-15
2024

Royal Roads
UNIVERSITY

Hay'sxw'qa si'em nakwilia!
Thank you, my honourable people!

Royal Roads University is located on the traditional Lands of the Lekwungen-speaking Peoples, the Songhees and Esquimalt Nations. With gratitude, we live, work and learn here where the past, present and future of Indigenous and non-Indigenous students, faculty and staff come together.

Congratulations from the President

Hello graduates, family and friends of Royal Roads University.

Welcome to our campus for Fall 2024 Convocation. This is a beautiful time of year to gather on these Lands. Just as the leaves change and adapt, so too must we navigate the shifting landscape of our world. In these turbulent times, it's understandable to feel uncertain, even at a time of celebration. Yet that same uncertainty can ignite our resilience and foster our growth.

You have spent invaluable time with your cohort and professors. Those long hours and hard work prepared you to take on the complex challenges of our world. The modern challenges we will encounter—including the mis- and-disinformation age, rapid growth of Artificial Intelligence and the very real needs for immediate climate action—can be daunting. Remember, you are equipped with more than just knowledge: you possess the courage to adapt and innovate.

As you step into this new chapter, you carry with you not only the skills you've developed, but also an innate curiosity that will always guide you. It is that curiosity that brought you here, and it is what will continue to serve you well as you go through uncertain times. Embrace this season as a time of transformation—both in nature and within yourselves. The world is ready for your unique contributions, and it needs your innovative spirit now more than ever. Stay curious!

You now join a group of alumni around the world who inspire us with their resilience and creativity in taking on today's most complex challenges. I encourage you to stay connected with RRU; sharing your journey will enrich our community and help build collective courage. I hope you leave your ceremony today with a renewed sense of purpose. I am looking forward to hearing about what you will do next.

Sincerely,

Congratulations from the Chancellor

To the graduates, your families and supporters:

Welcome back to campus and to your university! There's something truly special about Royal Roads that stays with you, no matter where life takes you. I hope you'll always consider this your place as you go forward into the world.

You are graduating at a time when the world feels uncertain and full of challenges. But through it all, you've adapted, embraced change and pushed forward. That flexibility and resilience are something to be deeply proud of, and they will serve you well in whatever comes next.

The skills you've developed here—your creativity, your ability to collaborate, your openness to new perspectives and your courage to try new things—are exactly what the world needs right now. These qualities will not only help you succeed but also make a real, meaningful difference wherever you go.

Today is also a celebration for the people who have supported you along the way. Behind each of you stands a network of family, friends and mentors (including RRU faculty and staff!) who have cheered you on, lifted you up when times were tough and reminded you of your own strength when you needed it most. This is their moment, too, and we celebrate them for the vital role they've played in your journey.

As you step into this next chapter of your life, remember that Royal Roads will always be your home. It's a place where you grew, learned and built lasting friendships. We hope you'll stay connected, share your successes and visit campus whenever you can.

Graduates, take pride in everything you've accomplished. Carry with you the confidence that the resilience, heart and skills you've shown here will guide you through whatever comes next. I couldn't be more proud of each and every one of you.

Congratulations!

Sincerely,

Convocation History

Universities are rich in tradition and ceremony, and nowhere is this more apparent than at convocation, when the university community comes together to celebrate new graduates.

Many early European universities originated within the church in the medieval period, and this is reflected in convocation's strong ecclesiastical connection. The chancellor presides over convocation and takes their title from the person who was head of the theological faculty of these early universities. As head of the chancery, the chancellor was responsible for examining students prior to their receiving degrees. Over the ages, the role of the chancellor has changed. Today, the Royal Roads chancellor, who also chairs the Board of Governors, is the person empowered by the provincial government to confer degrees and oversee the direction of the university.

Universities have undergone dramatic changes over the past 900 years. Today, as universities break down barriers of background, income and geography to welcome lifelong students to education, the convocation ceremony reminds us of the strong traditions that reach back to the very different world of medieval learning. In the 21st century, lifelong students require universities to keep pace with changing times. Royal Roads University is proud to be a leader in this new generation.

The Coat of Arms of Royal Roads University

In 1997, we were honoured to be granted a coat of arms by the Governor General of Canada. The coat of arms presented to Royal Roads University incorporates symbols of the traditions that link the university to our past and to the province of British Columbia: the sun from the province's coat of arms, the three maple leaves from the crest of the former Royal Roads Military College, and the book of learning as a reference to the voyage of academic discovery. The shield is supported by a cougar, indigenous to Vancouver Island, and Synqua, a dragon representing the Coast Salish creature of thunder, strength and power. The crown and the anchor held by the supports represent Royal Roads, the navy's anchorage off the Esquimalt Lagoon.

The motto of the university—Living Our Learning—captures the spirit and enthusiasm of our institution. Translated into Coast Salish, the motto recognizes the proud traditions of those who have come before us.

The Maces

The convocation ceremony typically begins with the arrival of two maces. The Royal Roads Military College mace is displayed in tribute to the history of the campus, and the Royal Roads University mace represents the history, academic direction and vision of the university.

The university's mace was a gift from its first graduating class, in 1997. The silver dome in the head of the mace represents the sun and the relationship of east and west. The stylized turret surrounding the dome indicates the historical significance of Hatley Castle and the former Royal Roads Military College. Three maple leaves crafted in oyster shell inset in alternating steps of the turret represent the Indigenous, French and English peoples of Canada.

Six crafted flutes surround the head of the mace. The silver band delineating the head and shaft is engraved with stylized images of water and balances the mace while effectively isolating the head from the main shaft, similar to the way Vancouver Island is isolated from the mainland.

President's Regalia

Enduring Commitment, New Traditions

Regalia traditions celebrating academic rites of passage date to the Middle Ages. The commitment to excellence and achievement endures as we accept the scholarship from mentors and teachers who came before us.

We also embrace a future where equity, diversity and inclusion are integral to all the ways in which we work, live and study.

Royal Roads University's regalia signals that future. Located on the traditional Lands of the Lekwungen-speaking Peoples, the Songhees and Esquimalt Nations who have lived here for thousands of years, the university acknowledges the learning we undertake and still have ahead to co-create an inclusive world.

Master carver and Songhees Nation Elder Dr. Clarence "Butch" Dick (YUX'WEY'LUPTON) generously created the symbols that grace our new regalia. The Staqeya (Wolf) represents the Coast Salish People. It symbolizes the strength of family and kinship and embodies the power of teamwork and community effort. The Sneq'wa (Blue Heron) represents the ability to progress and evolve on a path of self-determination. Its elegance and innate wisdom allow it to manoeuvre through life with grace.

About the Artist

Dr. Clarence "Butch" Dick (YUX'WEY'LUPTON) is among Victoria's most influential Coast Salish artists. His carvings and public art can be seen around the region, from the Ogden Point breakwater mural to the Signs of Lekwungen interpretive walkway along Victoria's Inner Harbour, to the mural at Royal Roads University on Esquimalt Lagoon. Butch Dick has been an educator and a mentor to many, championing Indigenous youth empowerment and educational equity through more than two decades as a teacher with School District 61, four years as assistant professor in Indigenous teaching and learning at the University of Victoria and more than six years as education liaison for the Songhees Nation. He was instrumental in the launch of the Songhees Recreation and Wellness Centre in 2013 and the driving force behind the Indigenous Youth Showcase, which provides mentorship for youth to develop their own artistic vision, focus and career paths. He was inducted into the Royal Canadian Academy of Arts in 2013 and received the Victoria Leadership Lifetime Achievement Award in 2015. Butch Dick is a member of the Heron People Circle, trusted Old Ones/Elders and Traditional Knowledge Keepers and received an honorary doctorate from Royal Roads University in 2021.

Medals

An academic medal signifies academic achievement or honours exceptional qualities like leadership, personal growth, commitment to sustainability, and positive and proactive work in equity, diversity and inclusion. These are the kinds of qualities that support Royal Roads University’s vision to inspire people with courage to transform the world.

Royal Roads University awards two medals in each of our degree programs—the Founders’ Award for exemplifying personal qualities relevant to the program and the Chancellor’s Award for highest academic achievement. Medals are awarded at the convocation ceremony that the majority of students from a program are expected to attend, whether spring or fall.

The medals are a high-quality, heavy silver medallion embossed with the university crest on one side and the university logo on the other, ringed with the name of the award. The ribbons align with the university’s colour theme and are selected to help recipients stand out among their peers when dressed in regalia.

In addition to these medals, Royal Roads has the pleasure of awarding the Governor General’s Gold Medal for highest academic achievement in graduate studies, the Governor General’s Silver Medal for highest academic achievement in undergraduate studies and the Lieutenant Governor’s Medal for Inclusion, Democracy and Reconciliation.

Chancellor’s Award

This medal recognizes one graduating student in each program per year for having achieved the highest academic performance.

Founders’ Award

This medal recognizes one graduating student or small collective in each cohort who exemplifies personal qualities relevant to the program’s field of study.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Anthony von Mandl

November 15, 2024

Anthony von Mandl is a humble and successful entrepreneur who leads with innovative spirit and strong values. As founder and CEO of the Mark Anthony Group, his optimistic and sustainable approach to work and life make him a unique success.

“Anthony von Mandl’s accomplishments are a shining example of what’s possible, and what the future of boldly different business looks like,” says Philip Steenkamp, president and vice-chancellor of Royal Roads University. “His work at the forefront of advancing organic winemaking in Canada set an impressive standard for the value of sustainability in business. His many accomplishments serve as a wonderful example to entrepreneurs who are just starting out that their business can be successful, while also supporting social and ecological well-being.”

Biography

The son of European immigrants, Anthony von Mandl considers himself incredibly fortunate to have been born in Canada. His parents fled Europe due to discrimination, gaining passage on the last passenger vessel to depart from Saint-Nazaire for Ellis Island in May 1940.

As an adult, he was absolutely convinced that, given time and a relentless pursuit of quality, the Okanagan Valley could produce wines that would stand on the world stage, an outrageous goal given the state of the Canadian wine industry at the time.

von Mandl served as the catalyst for sustainable organic winemaking, agriculture, tourism and economic development in the Okanagan. His iconic Wineries of British Columbia currently comprises eight wineries and has won prestigious awards, including “World’s Best Chardonnay” and “Best Pinot Noir in the World” in London, and the first-ever perfect 100-point scores, which he has repeated the past six years in a row. Today, von Mandl is credited with pioneering high-end winemaking in the Okanagan Valley and putting the region on the global map.

His Okanagan Cider Company produced the world’s first flavoured ciders based on the Okanagan’s incredible fruit-growing reputation and led the way in exploring entirely new beverage categories, with brands such as Mike’s Hard Lemonade, the iconic White Claw Hard Seltzer and now Más+ with soccer legend Lionel Messi, the first next-generation hydration-plus drink.

Despite his achievements, von Mandl remains driven and optimistic, always looking toward the future with the belief that there is still much more to accomplish. As he says, “We’ve only just begun.”

Honorary Degree Recipient

Suzanne Simard

November 15, 2024

Suzanne Simard has helped change generations of thinking about trees and forest ecosystems. Her research has shown forests are complex societies in which trees mediate resources amongst themselves, and learn and adapt, much like humans do.

“Suzanne Simard’s work shines a spotlight on the complexity and interconnectedness of our forests,” says Philip Steenkamp, president and vice-chancellor of Royal Roads University. “Her work shows the importance of conservation efforts and preserving the ecology and biodiversity of our natural world. We admire her commitment to climate action and aspire to emulate this passion in our own climate action efforts.”

Her dedication to education and forest protection has a global reach, from Ted Lasso to Time magazine, and reminds us of our own interconnectedness.

For her vital contributions to forest ecology and for showing us how to listen to conversations we didn’t even know were occurring, we award her a Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.

Biography

Suzanne Simard is a Professor of Forest Ecology at the University of British Columbia and the leader of The Mother Tree Project, which researches forest renewal practices that protect biodiversity against climate change. Dr. Simard’s work has been published widely, with over 170 scientific articles in peer-reviewed journals, including Nature, Ecology and Global Biology. She is also co-author of the book Climate Change and Variability. Her latest book, Finding the Mother Tree, brings us into the intimate world of trees, exploring the ways in which trees learn and adapt their behaviors, remember the past, demonstrate agency over the future, and cooperate with a sophistication typically ascribed to humans. Dr. Simard’s research has been communicated broadly through TED Talks and TED Experiences, as well as articles and interviews in The New Yorker, National Geographic, The Globe and Mail, NPR, CNN, CBC and many more.

An honorary degree is the university’s highest honour awarded to people of merit who reflect Royal Roads University’s vision and values, and have achieved a significant record of success and community service.

Royal Roads University Board of Governors

In establishing Royal Roads University through the Royal Roads University Act in 1995, the Province of British Columbia created a unique university with a mandate to offer applied and professional certificate, diploma and degree programs at the undergraduate and graduate levels in response to the labour market needs of British Columbia.

The government constituted Royal Roads University with unicameral governance, rather than bicameral governance. In traditional universities, a board is responsible for administrative governance and a senate is responsible for academic governance. The Royal Roads University Board of Governors carries the responsibilities of a traditional university board and senate together, and at Royal Roads, the board chair also holds the position of chancellor.
